

---

COURSES

PDF ENVIRONMENTAL SCIENCE

ENV100          Humans                  and Environment          3 Credits

Prerequisites: MATH120 or consent of instructor
Provides an interdisciplinary introductory survey of the ecology of natural systems with emphasis on the relationship of humans to the environment. Includes four laboratory experiences.

ENV101          Introduction                  to Environmental Science      3 Credits

Prerequisite: Math 120 or consent of instructor.
Explores the fundamental components and interactions of earth's natural systems, the relationships between humans and environment, and solutions to current and potential environmental problems.