| Summary of Discussion | President Gurrola reminds us that in the past two weeks they came up to us to see if we can have people from clubs or from the college in general to volunteer for the event. If Clubs participate they will earn $5 an hour for each towards their club. To clarify ASWN will not pay the people as workers. They will only get additional funding for their club. Senator Jauregui motions to approve a funding of 100 |

| Summary of Discussion | President Gurrola talked about how there will be an event at the soccer field where legislative members will be playing Kickball. Senator Jauregui and Treasurer Villeda want to advertise this as much as possible. Having people come watch and root for the two teams. President Gurrola also met with John Kinkella and was told that there will be a lot of Jump Start students that will be graduating with the regular College Students. The number of Jump Start Students is over 100 students graduating with both a High School Diploma and College Diploma. Dean Kinkella also wants to have a dinner for them and he wants ASWN there to meet and greet them. May 21 @5:30, will be the dinner. She also met with President Burton and brought up Canvas in the conversation and it is mandatory that new teachers use it and they have to agree to it so that they can get hired. However the teachers with tenure have a protection under their belt called academic freedom. They can not be forced and the only way to enforce this is to encourage students on letting their teachers know. Also give them the knowledge that there is a class for teachers on learning how to use Canvas during the first month of the school year. President Gurrola also says that the college has funded the new Executive Board to go to leadership camp in Champaign Urbana which will cost $2,300. She also brought up the issue that the vending machines are not being filled regularly. President Burton wants the Vending machines to be run by ASWN. He talked about having raises for ASWN and it needs to be more looked at. President Gurrola wants to have the swearing in ceremony of the new ASWN on May 12. Plus, Rob Hopper came into her conversation with the President of the college and told them that he can not be the keynote speaker for the whole day but the Lieutenant governor has said that he will be the keynote speaker at the ceremony. |

| Summary of Discussion | Geology Club will be having a rock sale fundraiser throughout the day. ALAS is going to have a water balloon paint war. Lilly contacted them because of a concern that there can not be any events on the last week of School but the members of the club would like to still have it on the 19th of May. They will be using Tempura which is washable paint, nontoxic. They were planning on have three hundred balloons but ASWN wants Them to get more balloons for the event. They also mentioned that students will be allowed to bring their own water guns and wear clothing that people are comfortable with getting dirty. Lilly explains why having the event on finals week will be hard to have. |
