| Summary of Discussion | Susan explains her role on campus in Computing Services. She informs members about the big wifi remodel that was recently funded. Then Susan began explaining why there will be no student emails: the college had student emails long ago that was taken care of by ses. we were in a recession. the ses decided that they could no longer handle emails at WNC because it costs money and they had to make some cuts. WNC did not have the |

Her department decided to try to get student emails up and running again, but considering all of the other expenses of the college and the lack of hands in Computing Services, the college does not have the ability to give student emails to WNC. The small amount of people down at Computing services would have to program everything by hand, which is difficult to do. The college would need to pay for more equipment, people, and advisors. The biggest reason that students want emails is so that they can get student discounts easier from big name book suppliers. So they looked into alternatives for students to get those discounts without an edu email address. Susan gave members a packet explaining how students can do these discounts. Susan asks if members have any questions. Aldo asks if there is a possibility of putting this information on the WNC website. Lilly suggests putting the information in student orientation. Susan says that she will see what she can do about these suggestions. Lilly suggests getting a quick link for live chat and little note cards to give students quick access to the information that they are repeatedly asking for. |
